CRITERION 1 – CURRICULAR ASPECTS

1.4 Feedback System

University Communication – Curriculum Enrichment

At Rajagiri Viswajyothi College of Arts and Applied Sciences (RVCAS), the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) undertakes the responsibility of collecting, analyzing, and communicating curriculum feedback from various stakeholders. This report outlines the process of feedback collection, analysis, and communication, with a focus on the engagement of all relevant stakeholders, including students, teachers, employers, and alumni.

Stakeholders Involved

1. Students: Feedback is collected from students across all years and departments. This ensures that the curriculum is aligned with their learning needs and aspirations.
2. Teachers: Faculty members contribute insights from their teaching experiences, highlighting the relevance of the curriculum and the challenges faced in its delivery.
3. Employers: Feedback from employers of RVCAS graduates provides an industry perspective, helping to align the curriculum with market demands and employability skills.
4. Alumni: Alumni feedback offers a view on how well the curriculum prepared them for their careers or further studies.

Feedback Collection and Analysis Process

Feedback is collected annually from each stakeholder group. The process is carefully structured to ensure comprehensive coverage of all academic programs.

The feedback is gathered using structured questionnaires that are tailored to each stakeholder group. Both online and offline methods are used, depending on the preferences and accessibility of the respondents.
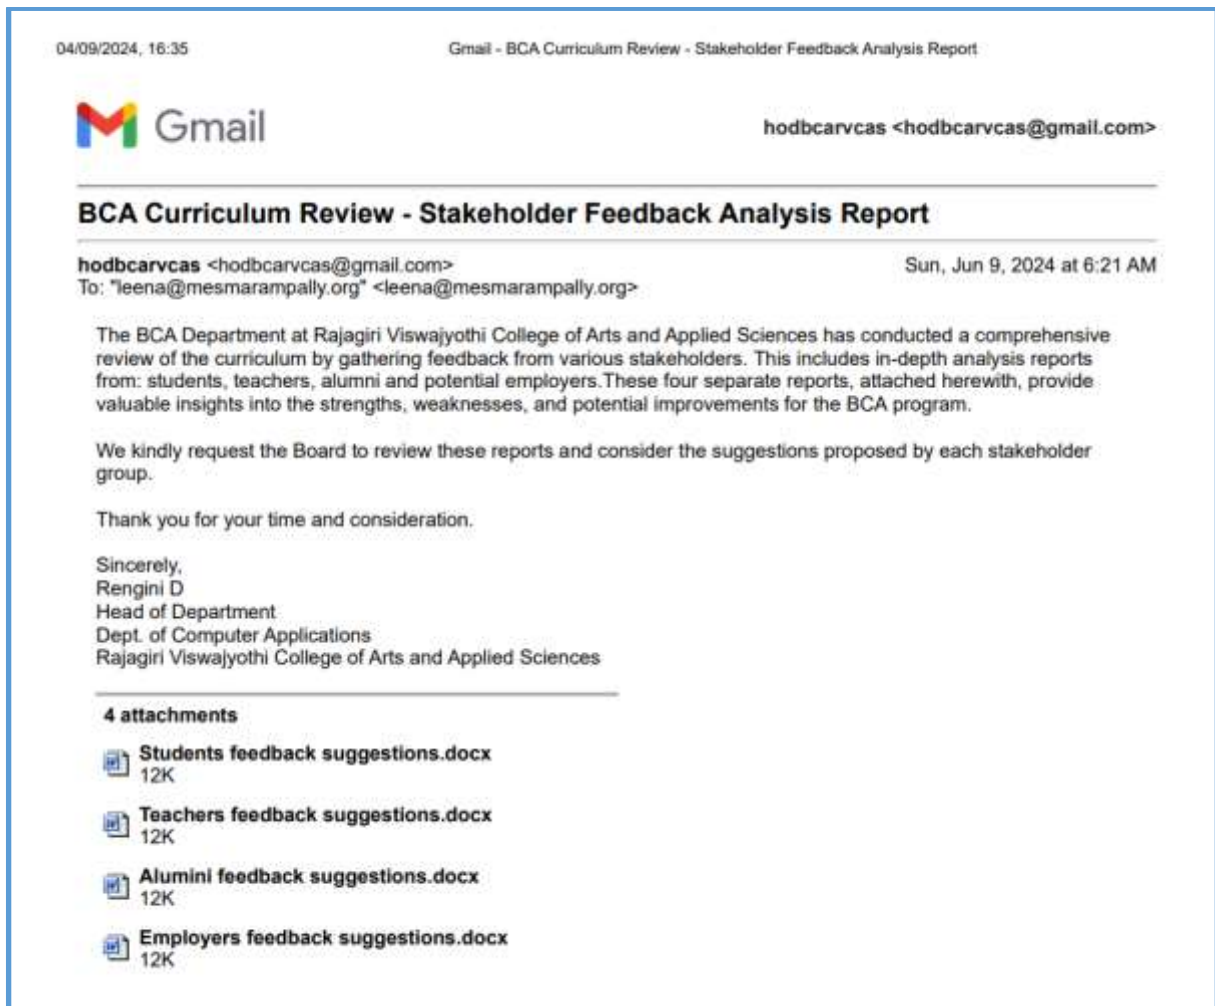

Once the feedback is collected, the IQAC undertakes a detailed analysis to identify key strengths, weaknesses, and areas for improvement in the curriculum.

Communication with Board of Studies

After completing the analysis, the IQAC prepares a comprehensive report that includes:

- A summary of feedback from each stakeholder group.
- Key findings and recommendations for curriculum improvements.

This report is communicated to the Board of Studies (BoS) through email. The proofs of communications are attached herewith.
