Report on the Event

As part of Rajagiri Viswajyothi College of Arts & Applied Sciences' commitment to health and wellness, the National Service Scheme organized a Blood Donation Drive on 14th June 2023, in association with the Public Health Centre, Vengoor. The event was held on the college campus and aimed to promote community health and social responsibility among students and staff. The Blood Donation Drive was an extension activity under the college's health and wellness scheme, emphasizing the importance of contributing to public health initiatives. The event saw enthusiastic participation from students, faculty members, and staff, who volunteered to donate blood. Before donating, participants underwent a medical screening process conducted by healthcare professionals from the Public Health Centre, ensuring that only those fit for donation proceeded. The drive not only focused on the immediate goal of collecting blood for those in need but also aimed at spreading awareness about the significance of regular blood donation. Informative sessions were held alongside the donation process, educating participants about the benefits of blood donation and how it can save lives. The collaboration between the NSS and the Public Health Centre, Vengoor, was instrumental in making this event a success

The National Service Scheme of Rajagiri Viswajyothi College of Arts & Applied Sciences organized a Stem Cell Donation Awareness Campaign in collaboration with DKMS BMST Foundation on 22nd January 2024. Held in the college auditorium, this initiative was part of the institution's Health and Wellness scheme, aimed at educating students and staff on the life-saving impact of stem cell donation. The campaign brought in expert speakers from DKMS BMST Foundation, who delivered informative sessions on the significance of stem cell transplants for patients suffering from blood-related disorders such as leukaemia and lymphoma. The event was open to the public, welcoming community members alongside students and staff, further expanding the reach and impact of the awareness campaign. Through engaging presentations, the speakers addressed common myths and misconceptions about stem cell donation, emphasizing the simplicity and safety of the procedure. In addition to raising awareness, the event focused on encouraging young individuals to register as potential donors. The campaign successfully inspired participants to consider their role in supporting critical health causes, fostering a sense of social responsibility. The event marked another step forward in Rajagiri Viswajyothi College's ongoing efforts to create a socially conscious and health-aware campus environment.

Report on the Event

The National Service Scheme and Dance Club of Rajagiri Viswajyothi College of Arts & Applied Sciences organized a Health Awareness Campaign on 12th May 2024 in association with the Vengoor Public Health Service Centre. The campaign was focused on Hepatitis B awareness and was conducted in Ward No. 12 of Vengoor Panchayath. The initiative aimed to educate the local residents about the prevention, symptoms, and treatment of Hepatitis B while also gathering health-related data through a comprehensive survey. A team of dedicated students actively participated in the door-to-door survey, collecting vital information regarding the health status and awareness levels of the residents. The survey was meticulously designed to assess risk factors and identify potential cases requiring medical attention. During the interactions, students took the opportunity to educate residents about the importance of vaccination, maintaining hygiene, and seeking timely medical advice to prevent the spread of Hepatitis B. The collaboration between the NSS, Dance Club, and Vengoor Public Health Service Centre proved effective in raising awareness and promoting community health.

Report on the Event

On January 31, 2024, the NSS, in collaboration with Vengoor Panchayat, conducted a cleaning drive at Thungali Ward 12. This event was organized as part of a community extension activity focused on promoting environmental consciousness and enhancing local cleanliness. The cleaning drive involved NSS volunteers of Rajagiri Viswajyothi College of Arts & Applied Sciences, Vengoor, and local residents working together to remove litter and debris from various parts of the ward. The primary aim was to improve the overall hygiene and visual appeal of the area while fostering a sense of responsibility towards environmental upkeep. Participants engaged actively in collecting waste, clearing public spaces, and disposing of materials properly. By involving the local population directly, the initiative strengthened community bonds and encouraged a collective approach to environmental stewardship. The drive not only improved the physical condition of Thungali Ward 12 but also contributed to a greater understanding of environmental issues among the residents, making a meaningful impact on both the local environment and community engagement.

Report of the Event

The National Service Scheme of Rajagiri Viswajyothi College of Arts & Applied Sciences organized a sapling distribution event titled Valarthuvanai Oru Vriksham on June 6, 2023, at the Anganwadi in Ward No. 12, Vengoor, to mark World Environment Day. This event, rooted in the theme of social support and resilience, aimed to promote environmental awareness and encourage sustainable living among the community. The programme specifically engaged the Parent Teacher Association of the local Anganwadi, highlighting the importance of fostering ecological consciousness from an early age. Through interactive sessions and sapling distribution, the initiative educated children and their families about the pivotal role trees play in environmental conservation. The participants also learned about the long-term benefits of nurturing plants and how small actions can lead to significant positive changes in the environment. The event led to a notable enhancement of greenery around the Anganwadi center, contributing to a healthier environment while instilling environmental stewardship within the local community. This practical approach to sustainability not only aligned with the broader goals of World Environment Day but also empowered participants to take responsibility for their surroundings.

Report of the Event

The National Service Scheme unit of Rajagiri Viswajyothi College of Arts & Applied Sciences conducted a meaningful outreach initiative on December 29, 2023, with a Visit to the Tribal School in Kuttampuzha. The programme focused on social support, specifically targeting the educational needs of tribal students through the donation of books and stationery. The visit was marked by the enthusiastic participation of NSS volunteers, who arrived at the school equipped with a range of educational materials, including textbooks, notebooks, and writing supplies. The goal was to provide essential resources that would aid in the students' learning and contribute to their academic success. During the visit, volunteers engaged with the students and teachers, sharing in their daily activities and gaining insights into their educational challenges. The donation was not only a practical support but also a gesture of solidarity, showing the tribal community that they are valued and supported. The event included a small ceremony where the donated items were presented, and the interactions with the students highlighted their enthusiasm and gratitude. The visit underscored the NSS unit's commitment to bridging educational gaps and fostering inclusivity within marginalized communities.

Venue	Kombanad Bus Stop

Report on the Event

The National Service Scheme unit of Rajagiri Viswajyothi College of Arts & Applied Sciences launched a significant community initiative with the Painting Murals at Kombanad Bus Stop programme on September 22, 2023. This project aimed to raise awareness about the hazards of polluting natural water bodies through striking and informative murals. Volunteers from the NSS, along with local residents and students, transformed the Kombanad Bus Stop into a canvas for environmental advocacy. The murals vividly illustrated the negative impacts of water pollution, including the harm to aquatic life and the broader environmental consequences. Each artwork was designed to capture attention and provoke thought, serving as a visual reminder of the urgent need to protect our water resources. The event not only beautified a public space but also engaged the community in important environmental discussions.

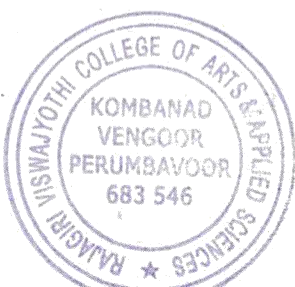

Volunteers interacted with passersby, sharing insights on how pollution affects natural water bodies and offering practical advice on reducing waste and preventing contamination. This initiative effectively combined creativity with environmental education, turning a common transit area into a platform for raising awareness. By integrating artistic expression with advocacy, the mural project succeeded in fostering a greater sense of responsibility towards water conservation and encouraging proactive steps to safeguard local ecosystems.

Venue	Thungali

Report on the Event

The Snehavedu: Home for Homeless initiative, launched by the National Service Scheme, is dedicated to providing housing solutions for individuals in need, with a special focus on our support staff. The initiative began on January 30, 2024, with the goal of constructing homes for deserving staff members who have made significant contributions to our organization. The first home built under this initiative was for Mr. Joby P., a dedicated support staff member. This new home not only provided him with a safe and comfortable living space but also served as a token of appreciation for his unwavering commitment to our institution. Building on this success, the second project commenced in June 2024, aimed at providing housing for Ms. Saritha Shaiju, another valued member of our support staff. Construction began on June 3, 2024, and is progressing smoothly, with the foundation and framework already completed. The house is expected to be ready by the end of September 2024. Looking forward, the Snehaveedu initiative remains committed to its mission of supporting additional staff members and individuals in need of housing.

The event, led by Mr. Ajayakumar, aimed to educate the community about the detrimental effects of plastic pollution and promote sustainable alternatives. The campaign included informative sessions on the environmental impact of plastic waste and practical steps for reducing plastic use. In addition, NSS students actively participated in a clean-up drive within Kuruppampady town, collecting and disposing of plastic waste. The clean-up drives effectively removed a considerable amount of plastic waste from the area and demonstrated the impact of collective action. Overall, the campaign was a positive step toward environmental conservation, engaging both local residents and students in meaningful activities that contribute to a cleaner, more sustainable community.

Date	25.11.2023
Nature of the Programme	Extension
Venue	Thungali

Report on the Event

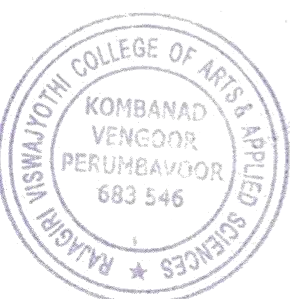

In a commendable display of social responsibility, the NSS units of Rajagiri Viswajyothi College of Arts & Applied Sciences and Sacred Heart College, Thevara, collaborated on a heartwarming community service project. Students from both institutions came together on November 25, 2023, to Renovate the Home of Mr. Shivarajan S., a local elderly resident who has been struggling due to unemployment. The project aimed to provide much-needed assistance by improving his living conditions, with a focus on re-roofing his house, which had fallen into disrepair. The students enthusiastically took on the task of cleaning and repairing the roof tiles, working with dedication to ensure the structure was restored to a safer condition. Their commitment extended beyond mere physical labor, as they engaged in teamwork and problem-solving to overcome challenges during the process. The involvement of NSS volunteers highlighted the values of compassion, community engagement, and active citizenship that the program seeks to instil in students.

Report on the Event

Students from Government LPS, Paniyeli, visited the campus of Rajagiri Viswajyothi College of Arts & Applied Sciences on October 27, 2023, as part of a one-day outreach programme organized by the college's NSS unit. The school, adopted by the NSS unit of the institution, has been a focus of continuous support aimed at broadening the students' exposure and opportunities. The visit began with a guided tour of the campus, where the young visitors were introduced to various facilities, offering them an inspiring glimpse into the environment of higher education. The NSS volunteers played an active role in welcoming the students, guiding them around the campus, and ensuring they felt at ease throughout the day. After the tour, teachers from the Department of English conducted an interactive session focused on basic English skills. The session was thoughtfully tailored to the needs of the young learners, blending simple language lessons with activities that encouraged participation. The programme concluded with cultural activities that brought the students together in a lively and joyful manner. The involvement of the NSS volunteers throughout the day was instrumental in ensuring that the event ran smoothly, highlighting the spirit of service and community engagement central to the programme. The event not only enriched the students' experiences but also reinforced the college's commitment to social outreach and inclusivity.

Report on the Event

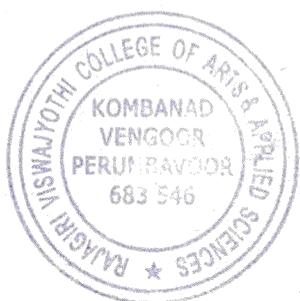

The NSS unit of Rajagiri Viswajyothi College of Arts & Applied Sciences organized a Craft-Making Session for the students of Government LPS, Paniyeli, the school adopted by the institution, on January 12, 2024. The workshop focused on teaching simple and easy crafts aimed at improving creativity among young learners. The event was designed to be both fun and educational, encouraging the students to explore their artistic abilities using basic materials. NSS volunteers led the session, guiding the children through various creative activities like making paper flowers, bookmarks, and decorative items. The crafts were chosen to be simple yet imaginative, allowing the students to follow along easily while also giving them room to experiment with colours, shapes, and designs. The volunteers took care to make the session engaging and supportive, encouraging every child to participate and express their unique ideas. The atmosphere was lively as the students eagerly learned new techniques, transforming ordinary paper and materials into delightful creations. The hands-on experience not only helped the students develop fine motor skills but also boosted their confidence as they saw their ideas take shape. The focus was on nurturing creativity in a relaxed and enjoyable setting, where mistakes were seen as part of the learning process.

Report of the Event

The alumni of Rajagiri Viswajyothi College of Arts & Applied Sciences organized a two-day residential camp titled City Escape 2.0 on May 6th and 7th, designed for 12th standard students from various schools. The programme aimed to offer career guidance, foster teamwork, and provide students with a unique opportunity to experience life away from home. For many participants, this was their first time staying away from their families, making the camp an ideal setting for personal growth and peer bonding. The camp featured expert sessions on career guidance, helping students explore potential career paths and better understand the opportunities that lie ahead. In addition, engaging team-building games encouraged participants to work collaboratively, enhancing their problem-solving and leadership skills. The itinerary also included visits to nearby tourist spots like Paniyeli and Panamkuzhi, giving students a chance to unwind and appreciate nature while bonding with their peers. Throughout the programme, students were introduced to the college's sustainable practices, helping them become more aware of eco-friendly initiatives and the importance of environmental consciousness. The camp provided an immersive experience that balanced learning, exploration, and community living, leaving participants with valuable memories and insights as they prepared for the next phase of their academic journey.

Organising Department/Cell	National Service Scheme
Date	26.12.2023
Nature of the Programme	Extension
Venue	St. Mary’s High School, Karariyeli

Report of the Event

A community health awareness programme titled “Arogya Samrakshanam”: Nurturing Health and Hygiene was organized by the college at St. Mary’s High School, Karariyeli, on 26th December 2023. The session, “Aarogyavum Shuchithvavum” focused on promoting healthy practices and raising awareness about the importance of maintaining cleanliness in daily life. Held from 3.00p.m. to 4.00 p.m., the programme featured Dr. Vijayamma Thomas as the resource person, whose expertise and engaging presentation made the session highly informative and impactful. Addressing a diverse audience that included students, teachers, and local residents, Dr. Vijayamma emphasized the significance of integrating hygiene into everyday routines, particularly in school and community settings. She highlighted how basic habits like handwashing, proper waste disposal, and maintaining personal cleanliness are crucial in preventing diseases. The talk also covered the role of balanced nutrition and regular health check-ups in fostering overall well-being. The interactive nature of the session allowed participants to ask questions and share their concerns, creating a platform for meaningful dialogue on health issues that are often overlooked in daily life. Dr. Vijayamma's practical tips and insights, delivered in simple and relatable language, resonated with the audience, ensuring that the core messages were understood and could be easily implemented.

The initiative not only raised awareness about health and hygiene but also reinforced the college's commitment to community outreach and public health education. By bridging knowledge gaps and encouraging healthy practices, the programme contributed to building a healthier and more informed community.
